The tug-boat Titan rendesvoured to tow her off, but fruitlessly; and it was necessary to lighten her considerably. This having been done, the tug-boat Fulles took her in tow, and brought her in safety to the anchorage by 4.30. on the 18th inst. - Cosner.

The steamer Argyla from Hankow, left the Red Buoy at Woosung at three o'clock p.m. on the 18th inst. She takes 8.006.19 niculs of Hankow tea, and 2.711.00 picule of Kinking tea. The Dago is expected to be the next steamer down, and it is probable that the sailing vessel Coriolanus will loave Hankow in tow of the China Navigation Company's steamer Peleing! It is noteworthy that the Argule and Dago were almost the last steamers to arrive at Hankow. The Argule filled at £3 per ton in preference to the Fleurs Castle, Viking, Cairnsmuir, Feronia, and Perim all of which steamers it is thought will have to wait for second oron teas, musters of which are expected in Hankow about the end of the week. The Dago has taken £2 10s per ton. the lowest rate, we believe, ever accepted at Haukow; but when it is considered there has been about double the number of steamers there this year to what there was last season, there is no

That portion of our Settlement which is known as Lousah, lying between the Malco and the 1.30 natives, was the other tay the scene of considerable excitement, which has scarcely yet abated. A Hwnichan ten roaster, who hitherto had emand ployed about one hundred men; one half being from that tea district, the other half being Shanghaites, has this season found himself naable to employ more than half the usual number. and refused to engage any but the old hands from Hwuishau. Anticipating difficulty from the disappointed men of Shanghai, he provided bimself with a proclamation from the District Magistrate which enjoined quiet on the disaffected. These, however, determined on compelling the teaman to give them a share of the Hwnichan men, whom they essayed to attack, were armed also. Dire was the conflict that ensued for bamboo met bamboo, and heads got bruised as badly as was wont at Donnybrook with shillelahs. The upshot was the interference of the police but not until a great amount of head dressing was required at the hospital, the assailants getting the worst of the affray. Next day riotors and vanquished appeared at the Mixed Court whose bandaged heads showed that the supply of cotton cloth at the hospital had suffered an extensive drain. Chen sont thom all to the Magistrate, whose special proclamation had been so daringly disregarded, and who therefore was in no great humour. The leader of the riot, who had sentenced to receive forty blows. He remonously wounded in the fight, for which remonstrance, twenty additional blows were inflicted bruised, were each sentenced to forty blows. O the whole, it looks as if the Shanghai men had been too severely dealt with, and there is con-

PROM A COBRESPONDENT.

Wellington, 27th April. Harbour works, drainage and water supply, ave been of late engaging the attention of most of our municipalities, and two eminent divil anrineers are now in the colony for the purpose of advising on these subjects-Sir John Coode to drainage and water supply, both of which are much wanted in nearly every town in New On 31st December, 1877, the estimated popu lation of the colony was 417,622, exclusive Maoris, vis., males 234,805, females 182,819. The population of the principal towns was as follows:-Auckland, 73,269; Thames, 4,466; Wellington 18,538; Nelson, 5,659; Christchurch, 13,513 Dunedin, 28,512. The above figures are only approximate, being taxed on a census of th colony was taken last month, but no returns are The prisoner said two men stole the jacket as yet published beyond one or two of the prininal centree, but a very large increase on the above estimated population will certainly be

The fall in the price of wool, as reported to have taken place faring the last few days of the London March soles, will not seriously affect New Zealand wool growers, for of late they have to a large extent oultivated a class of wool which appears to have maintained its price. So large on extent of country is year by year being laid to local trader. down with English grasses and fenced in that the wild rowing morine is being rapidly replaced by the long-woolled Leicester and Lincoln sheep. The secret of how profitably to utilise our yast extent of indigenous flax has not yet been satisfactorily solved. A good deal is used in the Anekland district in the manufacture of rope and moking but the export of the raw material from the colony continues languid, and the prices Since the great meeting of the Presbyterian realised are not very remunerative. In political life we are now enjoying that pro perhial full which follows as well as precedes a storm. Our Premier, Sir George Grey, ex-Governor of South Australia, the Cape Colony, and New Zealand, has during the past few months addressed the people in nearly every town and township within the colony, and if the seed be has sown so broadcast bear its natural fruits, we may expect to have stormy and exciting debates during the ensuing Session of our Parliament (say in about three months from this). For Sir George Grey has taken up his parable by telling his hearers that the wealthy landowners and runolders have become wrongfully possessed of their argo estates, that they do not boar their fair share of taxation, that they tyramnize over their less fortunate fellow colonists, and that unless stringent measures are adopted, the mechanics. day labourors, and in fact all the poorer classes. will become little better than the serf of this mighty oligarchy. Sir George proclaims himself the deus ex machina which is to save our fair colony from so dire fate, and his panaces for the evils under which we are now supposed to be suffering (or are about to suffer) is manhood suffrage, pure and simple was his first proposal, but tempered in his later speeches by 12 months' residence: redistribution of scats in the Legislature, giving representation according to population; direct taxation in the form of land and VARIOUS NEW DRESS FABRICS. noome taxes, with the seductive prospect of a eduction in the customs tariff. Such are some of the exciting topics which Sir George Grey has been bringing before the public during the recess, and some of them will form the basis of the ministerial programme next Session of Par-

If the Grey Ministry is defeated, a dissolution will be asked for, and if Lord Normanby grants it is more than probable that (if Sir George Grey's popularity continues) he will come back to Parliament with a large majority at his back The Opposition, though numerically strong in the present Parliament, is politically weak for want of a leader. The late Premier, Major Atkinson, though a very able, is not a popular man and our veteran statesman, Mr. Stafford, who is of the same party; has just left the colony. A rumour is affoat that the speaker of the House of Representatives, Sir William Fitzherbert work. They want to the catablishment duly leadership; but at present this requires confirmed, and their approach being expected the mation, for he has given no outward and visible sign. If he consents he would almost certainly have a large majority in the Legislature, but the mestion of turning out Grey would rest with the Governor's decision as to whether or not His Excellency will give Sir George Grey the opportunity of appealing to the country. But it is not alone amongst the European population that Sir George Groy has been seeking popularity; he has had a friendly interview with the so-called Moori King, and although no practical result followed, it is considered of no slight importance that a member of the Government should have had this interview, seeing that his Maori Majesty has kept himself aloof from all European society for the last ten years. Another neeting is to take place shortly, when questions of interest to both races are to be discussed, and possibly decided upon.

Every one is surprised at Sir George Grey's energy and power of endurance, for he is about 87 years old and in very delicate health, but he never seems so well as when in the heat of party conflict, or when haranguing the people on his favourite topics : when at rost his health almost invariably fails him. Our Governor, the Marquis of Normanby, is iked and respected by every one in the colony excepting Sir George Grey who, for some reason unknown to the public, appears, to have a personal antipathy to His Excellency, and ho does not hesitate to show it on every occasion which most cortainly has not the sympathy of the public with him in this matter. The late Lord Ravensworth, or " the Baron, se he was familiarly known, besides being a firstclass chess player and good classical scholar, was a man of no little personal vanity. One cold day in winter, some years back, it is related, having wrapped himself in a far coat, he went to call on some neighbours in Northumberland. He was ushered into the drawing room, and left, as he thought, alone. No sooner was the door closed than he mounted on a chair in front of the mirror. over the fireplace, and, after surveying himself with intense satisfaction, gave vent to the ejaculation. "Well; a man in fur is a noble animal. Unfortunately for "the Baron," a lady was seated in the recess of a screen, in a corner of the room,

THE CONSOLATIONS OF THE BLIND. Mr. Tutmann, the Swiss composer, some of whose operas are very popular in Germany, among others, "The Night of Twenty-four Hours," became blind at thirty-five years of In order to console himself under this melancholy bereavement he resolved to scok out a wife, a person of skill enough to copy his music, and of such a kindred spirit as to be able to share in all his thoughts, his joys and his cares. He found the object of his desire in the person of Sara Nipocla, the daughter of an advocate of Zurich. His young spouse was prodigal in her attentions to him. THE DANGERS OF BREAD AND CHEESE.

A modest Swiss tradesman has recently sot an example worthy of universal notice. Some Swiss medical papers have expatiated cheese. The cheese is generally tasted by means of a knife, which is allowed to touch both the tongue and lips of the purchaser, but is rarely if ever cleaned. The Swiss do but thrust this implement into their mouths conveying to them a slight but possibly dangerous moisture from the mouth. In the bakers' shops the small loaves or rolls are handled over and over again by the customers.
